Kathleen Gaber, Chair of the firm's Business Immigration Group, has over twenty years of legal experience representing and advising corporations on issues relating to business immigration and related employment issues. Ms. Gaber represents clients in acquiring nonimmigrant and immigrant visas and advises clients on immigration-related employment issues. Her clients consist of corporations involved in a variety of industries, including transportation, construction and equipment, banking and financial, health care, high tech and automotive-related industries, among others.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Gaber was employed with the Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) as a General Attorney in the Chicago District Office and as an Assistant General Counsel in the Office of the General Counsel in Washington, D.C. She also represented INS as Appellate Counsel before the Board of Immigration Appeals in Falls Church, Virginia.

Ms. Gaber is a frequent speaker and is often invited to address immigration issues at seminars and conferences for clients and international organizations. She is a member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association, the American Bar Association and several foreign Chambers of Commerce.

Ms. Gaber is admitted to practice in Georgia, Illinois and the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. She obtained her law degree from Emory University in 1985. She received both her Bachelor of Business Administration Degree (1981) and her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Speech Communication (1982) from the University of Michigan, where she was an Evans Scholar.
